

HUGHES REPLIES TO PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

Declares Opponents are a "Little Out of Their Reckoning"

Refers to Executive's Address Last Saturday as a "Self-Justification" States "Business" Has Been Placed on a "Very Slippery Footing."

Columbus, O., Oct. 30.—Charles E. Hughes tonight replied to President Wilson's speech at Shadow Lawn last Saturday. Mr. Hughes referred to the occasion "as a festival of self-justification" among "our opponents" in which they celebrated the birth of freedom and glorified themselves as the generous forces of the age and world.

"The eulogy needed one further touch," Mr. Hughes declared, "and that was to celebrate the policy that led to the slaughter at Vera Cruz and Carrizal."

"The Underwood and Adamson bills were characterized as being in the whimsical domain of topsy-turvydom and may as well be the guardian of American enterprise and of American labor."

Business had been placed as it was claimed on a different footing, Mr. Hughes said.

"And it is a very slippery footing," he added.

Mr. Hughes declared his opponents were a little out of their reckoning that business had been relieved of a nervous fear of the courts, that what business really feared was vague legislation, "two faced laws," "government by holdup" and an "administration which treats business men as suspicious characters."

The nominee was due to address his audience here at 8 o'clock. Instead he began his address at 9:45. A long torchlight parade which he reviewed and crowds of Republicans from every section of Ohio which choked the streets between his hotel and memorial hall, caused the long delay. The last of the audience had been in their seats waiting two and one half hours when he began to speak. The early arrivals had been sitting nearly four hours. Thousands of persons who could not gain entrance to the hall were addressed outside by other speakers. The crowd which witnessed the parade backed the greater portion of Capitol Square opposite the hotel where Mr. Hughes was staying. The nominee reviewed the parade for an hour and a half and left while it was still passing. Scores of bands participated. For four blocks between the hall and the hotel the crowd was so dense that Mr. Hughes' car had to creep at a snail's pace. A block from the hotel it came to a stop in the jam, surrounded by thousands of persons, who called on him for a speech. He finally arose.

"I would like to speak to you," he said, "but I cannot do so. The crowd in the hall has been waiting a long time and my voice is poor." He finally cheered this and the police finally extricated his car from the throngs. With a squad of policemen leading the way the car finally reached the hall.

As in previous speeches today in the state, Mr. Hughes made the tariff his chief theme tonight. In replying to statements in President Wilson's speech, Mr. Hughes said:

"The other day our opponents had a little festival of self-justification. They conferred upon themselves the highest honors they could bestow. They celebrated the birth of freedom. They had emancipated, they said, pretty much everything and everybody. Finding no lesser praise to be adequate they finally described themselves as the generous forces of the age and the world. For these, they say, will be thrown back in discouragement in the courts of their defeat. They say in effect that a majority of my fellow countrymen elect me humanity will be routed. This delicate tribute to my own endeavors I keenly appreciate. The eulogy needed only one further touch and that was to celebrate the policy that led to the slaughter at Vera Cruz and Carrizal. These I suppose would be regarded by the generous forces of the age as peace pacts; but in the same whimsical domain of topsy-turvydom, the Underwood and Adamson bills may be hailed as the guardians of American enterprise and of American labor."

"We are told that the business and the life of the country have been put upon a new footing. This is true. And it is a very slippery footing."

"We were relieved from a nervous fear of the courts. I think our opponents are a little out of their reckoning. It is not nervous fear of the courts that makes honest business nervous but fear of vague legislation, of two-faced laws passed by compromising lawmakers, intended to mean one thing to one group and quite another to another group leaving to the courts the difficult task of interpretation—after election; it is the dread of vindictive governmental administration of an administration which treats business men as suspicious characters. Of government by hold-up, by the placing of our highest departments on a basis of mere partisan expediency or effort to secure the votes of this or that group at the expense of principles of our institutions. It is these which give rise to the anxieties of honest business and not the terror of the institutions which administer justice and maintain the stability of the country. It is no time to cast slurs at the courts. We want to perfect legal procedure, but let us not put upon our tribunals either the burden of administration or vague legislation."

In opening his speech Mr. Hughes paid a tribute to William McKinley. "For a long time reviewing a great parade in a place eloquent with the memories of the martyred McKinley soldier, representative, governor, president, a gentle husband, a great

OKLAHOMA SENATOR ANSWERS ROOSEVELT

Charges Colonel's Statements False
In Regard to Americans and Chinese Being Placed on Same Footing in Mexico.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 30.—Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, in a speech here today, replied to statements of Theodore Roosevelt on his recent western campaign tour that during President Wilson's administration "over 500 Americans and 300 Chinese" have been killed in Mexico. Senator Owen took issue with Mr. Roosevelt that "Americans and Chinese have been placed on the same footing" in Mexico with respect to protection.

"Mr. Roosevelt's premises are untrue," declared Senator Owen. "Under Roosevelt's own administration at least sixty Americans were reported killed; under Taft fifty-seven; under Wilson, 119 citizens, during nearly four years of revolution. During Taft's administration 386 foreigners were reported to the state department as killed in Mexico and during Wilson's administration only 220 were reported, including 17 British, 38 Spaniards, 4 Germans, 4 Japanese and 7 Chinese."

"Roosevelt did not prevent the killing of Americans by intimidating Mexico, when he had power during seven years. No president of the United States by intimidating the Mexican authorities could prevent outlaws in revolution torn Mexico where life is unsafe for Mexicans and foreigners alike."

PLAN TO BRING ABOUT CLOSER CO-OPERATION

Also Strengthening of Agriculture Branch of Industrial Workers of World Discussed at Length.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 30.—Plan for bringing about closer cooperation and for strengthening the agricultural branch of the Industrial Workers of the World were discussed at length at the annual meeting of the agricultural workers, which opened here today with nearly 400 delegates present from various parts of the United States. The meeting will continue four days.

William D. Hayward, general secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World, in an address advocated a strike of all farm hands in the midst of the harvest season as one means of obtaining adequate wages from farmers and compelling "fair treatment on the part of the authorities."

During the remainder of the convention, the chief object of which is to review the agricultural work of last summer and lay plans for next summer, the proceedings will be closed to all except members.

"To open our meeting to the press would mean informing the enemy in print of our campaign plans," said E. W. Letchum of Minneapolis.

THREE PERSONS BADLY INJURED IN WRECK

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Oct. 30.—Three persons were badly injured when a street car was struck by a Northwestern freight train at 8 o'clock tonight at a crossing in the city limits. Miss Lizzie Abrams was hurled from the car to the railroad tracks, fifteen feet away. Her condition is serious.

W. D. Snuffer and Miss Fannie Kozina suffered cuts and bruises. Three other passengers on the street car escaped without injuries.

REPORTS OF SINKING OF STEAMERS INCOMPLETE

Lansing States Information will Be Awaited With Interest

Admits Reports Appear More Serious Than the Usual Routine Despatches Announcing Destruction of Belligerent Merchantmen.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Preliminary reports of the sinking of German submarines of the British Steamers Marina and Rowanmore, partly manned by Americans, were too incomplete tonight to enable officials at the state department to form an opinion as to whether there had been a violation of neutral rights or of pledges given the United States by Germany. Secretary Lansing declined to comment further than to admit that the reports appeared more serious than the usual routine dispatches announcing the destruction of belligerent merchantmen and that full information would be awaited with interest.

On its face the case of the Marina, reported by Consul Frost at Queenstown, presents the gravest situation that has arisen since the sinking of the channel liner Sussex, which brought the American and German governments to the verge of a break. Altho he cautioned that his information was purely "provisional" the consul cabled that the Marina, a "horse transport with a mixed crew of British and Americans" was reported sunk without warning by German submarine gun fire 100 miles west of Cape Clear, and that 70 of the crew of 194 were missing. Press despatches have indicated that the missing men might reach shore in their boats later. Another message from Mr. Frost said members of the crew of the Rowanmore, including Americans had been shelled in their boats while abandoning the ship after being chased by a submarine for fifty minutes. There were no casualties. According to the agents in this country of the Marina's owners, the Donaldson Line, the vessel with some fifty American horse tenders aboard was not under charter to the British government as a transport, but was engaged in her regular trade as a freighter and carried horses for the allies as a part of her general cargo. Under these circumstances she would be entitled to all immunities of any merchantman and an enemy destroy her and her contraband cargo would be required to make due provision for the safety of the ship's company unless she was sunk in the act of attempting to escape.

Apparently all depends upon the accuracy of the first reports; whether the Marina actually was attacked without warning or whether she is to be recorded as only another of the score of British carriers that have gone to the bottom as the result of their skippers' desperate efforts to outrun enemy shells.

Until a full report has come from Consul Frost no step will be taken by the state department. Affidavits of American survivors are expected from him within a day or two.

Most of the officials of the department are inclined to be very optimistic. They point out that time after time first accounts have made it appear as if a ship had been sunk illegally and that in every instance since the Sussex complete reports have proved that no laws or pledges had been violated by the submarine destroyer.

Comparatively little importance is attached to the case of the Rowanmore because it is admitted the vessel attempted to escape and only stopped after fleeing for 50 minutes and having her steering gear shot away. There was a heavy fog at the time and officials think it would have been easy for panic stricken sailors leaving their battered ship to have imagined that the submarine was sending shells in their direction. This opinion is strengthened by the fact that no one was lost.

Wilson Makes No Statement

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 30.—President Wilson, when informed today of the sinking of the British steamship Marina by a submarine with the probable loss of American lives directed immediately that he be supplied with all details as they come to the state department at Washington. The president would make no statement.

Augustus Thoman, the playwright took dinner with the president. Thomas spoke at a Democratic political rally here tonight. Mr. Wilson did not attend the meeting as he had planned earlier.

The officers and executive committee of the National association of Commissioners of Commerce came to Shadow Lawn today to ask the president to name the time and place for a formal conference on agricultural questions and the adjustments necessary for the farmers after the close of the European war. It is probable the conference will take place at Norfolk, Va., early in December.

DESCRIBES PRESENT WAR SITUATION

German Chief of Staff "Situation is as Good as Possible and Will be Well Also in the Future."

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—By Wireless to Sayville.—"The situation is as good as possible, and all will be well also in the future."

Thus Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, chief of the German general staff, described the present war situation to a representative of the Vienna Neue Freie Presse, whom he received at headquarters in the presence of General Von Luendorf, first quartermaster-general. As to the duration of the war, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg said:

"That depends upon our enemies. Prophecy does not pay. In the hour of war one had better leave it alone. It is possible that the year 1917 will bring battles which will decide the war. However, I do not know and nobody knows. I only know that we will fight this war to a final decision."

General Von Luendorf here added:

"We do not think of peace. We are absolutely decided to continue the war as is shown with sufficient clearness by the measures of the allied (Teutonic) army commands."

This interview with the chief of staff was given out today by the Overseas News Agency for publication. It continues:

"The correspondent in turn reported to Field Marshal Von Hindenburg on the general feeling in Austria-Hungary, declaring it was one of confidence and satisfaction, but that, as everywhere, the end of the war was wished for."

Field Marshal Von Hindenburg replied:

"That we all wish; understand this well. The Austria-Hungary people have accomplished their full duty during this war and have made all the heavy sacrifices which were necessary. But still new sacrifices must be made lest those already made have been in vain."

Asked if there was any chance that the war would be culminated by a decisive blow, General Von Luendorf said:

"Perhaps. The trend of events must show this. I prefer to make no statement."

As to whether the Russian masses shall be exhausted, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg replied:

"They are already becoming so. The Russian army commanders have charged themselves with that. There is no doubt also that new masses will grow up in Russia. But that makes no difference. We, too, have enough men. Germany has a profusion of reserves, and in Austria-Hungary the reserves are by no means exhausted. We never were afraid of the Russian numerical strength. We know no numerical superiority."

"The new Russian armies are as good and as bad as the former. The main quality of the Russian soldier is blind obedience. He makes no progress of a military kind; only the Russian artillery has become more efficient on account of instruction by French and Japanese officers, who partly command. But our artillery remains superior."

"During a certain period the Russians had more munitions than they formerly had. Their munitions supplies have now become diminished because of the end of importation by way of Archangel and Vladivostok."

The correspondent asked whether in the opinion of the chief of staff the termination of the war was only possible in the east, to which Field Marshal Von Hindenburg replied:

"People don't know what nonsense they talk. One does a great injustice to any army commander by attributing to him a program. He certainly has in his head a plan of war, a general view of war. But there is no prepared program, except that one—to gain victory. Where and how that shall be done can only be decided at the moment and on the basis of events. Therefore a decision can be looked for as well in the east as in the west."

"It is nonsense if they tell you that I intend to shorten my front in the west. I never thought of it. Why should I do it? The front in the west stands as firm as a rock, and if our enemies by a gigantic use of artillery here and there get into a terrain they shall never break thru. In order to do this they still will have to attack for thirty years, provided they had enough men."

PRESIDENT GRANTS SULLIVAN A RESPITE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 30.—Word was received here today by federal attorneys that another respite until January 1 has been granted by President Wilson to Percy B. Sullivan of Decatur, former president of the Assured National Mutual Fire Insurance company.

Sullivan was convicted at the January, 1915, term of the federal court of using the mails to further alleged fraudulent insurance schemes, and was sentenced to two years in Leavenworth penitentiary. Sullivan took the case to the supreme court but was unsuccessful.

President Wilson has granted Sullivan three other respites.

ENGINEER IS KILLED WHEN TRAINS COLLIDE

QUINCY, Ill., Oct. 30.—Joseph Freese of Quincy, engineer on the Louisiana branch of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, was killed at 6 o'clock tonight in a wreck at Hull, Ill., when the passenger train he was pulling was run into by an eastbound freight on the Washburn. The accident occurred at a crossing where there is no signal tower and where trains are supposed to stop before proceeding. The Burlington passenger was southbound and Quincy freight was northbound, but no passengers injured.

WILSON CHARACTERIZES STATEMENT AS UNTRUE

Asserts No Postscript To Lusitania Note was Contemplated

Executive Replies to Assertion of Senator Lodge—Bryan Denies Truth of Story—Lodge Reads Letter From John T. L. Jeffries in Campaign Speech.

Lone Branch, N. J., Oct. 30.—President Wilson tonight characterized as untrue the statement made by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts to the effect that the president had seriously considered adding a weakening postscript to his Lusitania note.

The president telegraphed to Walter Lippman of New York, editor of the New Republic replying to a message from Mr. Lippman regarding Senator Lodge's statement. The president's telegram follows:

"In reply to your telegram let me say that the statement made by Senator Lodge is untrue. No postscript or amendment to the Lusitania note was ever written or contemplated by me except such changes that I myself inserted which strengthened and emphasized the protest. It was suggested after the note was ready for transmission that an intimation be conveyed to the German government that a proposal for arbitration would be acceptable and one member of the cabinet spoke to me about it, but it was never discussed in cabinet meeting and no threat of any resignation was ever made for the very good reason that I rejected the suggestion after giving it such consideration as I thought every proposal deserved which touched so grave a matter."

"It was inconsistent with the purpose of the note. The public is in possession of everything that we said to the government of Germany. (Signed) 'Woodrow Wilson.'"

Bryan Denies Truth of Story

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 30.—William J. Bryan, former secretary of state, denied here tonight that there was any truth in the story that a postscript had been written to the Lusitania note advising the German government the strong language of the note should not be taken seriously and later the postscript was withdrawn.

"I take it for granted," Mr. Bryan said, "that the president will deal with the matter as he deems wise, if indeed any attention need be paid it after Mr. Breckinridge's denial."

Mr. Bryan would make no further comment except to call attention to the fact that his resignation was not tendered at the writing of the alleged Lusitania note, to which the alleged postscript was attached, but at the time the second note was written, nearly a month later.

Lodge Reads Letter at Fitchburg

Fitchburg, Mass., Oct. 30.—Senator Lodge in a campaign speech here tonight read a letter from John Temple Lloyd Jeffries of Boston, in which the writer stated that Henry Breckinridge, former assistant secretary of war had several times made remarks similar to those made by Prof. Bailey of Tufts concerning the alleged elimination by President Wilson of a weakening postscript from "the strict accountability" note to Germany.

A letter from Dr. Bailey regarding a controversy he had with Mr. Breckinridge on the subject was read by Senator Lodge at a public meeting here Saturday night and the senator in his address tonight said he presented the letter from Mr. Jeffries as additional evidence:

"Dear Senator Lodge: 'I have noted in Boston papers your remarks concerning President Wilson with a postscript with one of the so-called Lusitania notes. According to the papers you state that the effect of this postscript was to vitiate the force of the note, or purposed to inform the imperial government that vigor displayed in earlier parts of the notes was designed for Anglo-American consumption only. According to the press accounts this postscript was added rather surreptitiously and under star-chamber proceedings and was withdrawn only because the few mainly members of the cabinet happened to discover its existence by luck and naturally threatened to turn the government upside down.'

"I assure you, sir, I deeply regret being drawn into this affair, but I cannot sit idly by and see you called a liar when I know your statements are true."

"My friend, Major Breckinridge, several times made to me remarks similar to those reported by Professor Bailey. I cannot swear to every minute detail, for my memory is only human; but the general substance of your statement is correct to my personal knowledge."

"As I have telegraphed to Major Breckinridge to tell him of my proposed action, and as his remarks were not secret and as Professor Bailey has already involved the matter, I feel obliged to state that I know your statement is true. With regard to Major Breckinridge he is one of the finest examples of the American gentleman and his dis-

War News Summarized

In a vigorous counter-attack, launched with huge effectiveness, the Germans facing the French south of the Somme river in France have been able to capture parts of their former trenches near La Maissonneuve and in the region of Biaches. In addition 412 Frenchmen were made prisoners by the Germans.

To the north of the river, however, both the French and the British succeeded in advancing their lines—the British between LesBoeufs and Norvalle and the French north-west of Sailly-Saillisel. In the later engagement sixty Germans were captured.

While in the Dobruja region of Roumania the Teutonic allies are keeping up their advance, on the Transylvania front the Roumanians are still fighting hard in the Prahova valley and the Jiu valley where fresh gains have been made by them. In the Rotherthum pass region Berlin records a new success for the Austro-Germans, but admits that south-west of the Szurdok pass the Roumanians have forced the Austro-German columns to fall back.

In massed formation the Russians in Volhynia to the west of Pustynoye endeavored to break the Teutonic line, only again to be defeated with heavy casualties according to Berlin. Another Russian attack east of Szelzov also was repulsed by the Germans.

Heavy fighting is still going on at the bend of the Cerna river in Serbia, the French and Serbians being engaged there with the Germans and Bulgarians. Berlin reports that all the attacks by the entente forces in this district thus far have failed. On the Doiran front the British have raided a German-Bulgarian position inflicting considerable casualties on the occupants of the trenches.

ARREDONDO TO SEE SECRETARY LANSING

Mexican Ambassador to Repudiate Statement of Luis Cabrera of Assailing Administration.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Eliodoro Arredondo, Mexican ambassador-designate, arranged today to see Secretary Lansing tomorrow for the purpose of repudiating the statement attributed to Luis Cabrera assailing the administration of American neutrality and immigration laws.

The ambassador's explanation which will include Mr. Cabrera's disclaimer of responsibility for the statement, probably will close the incident.

Mr. Arredondo will also take up with Secretary Lansing published criticisms of the American administration's dealings with Mexico attributed to Generals Carranza, Obregon and Gonzales.

It has been stated at the embassy that Mr. Arredondo has been instructed to deny the authenticity of the alleged quotations.

The manifesto repudiates the situation of the country after six years of war justified in fact by great popular necessities, the not less painful and exhausting, and urges all elements in Mexico to work toward peace and economic development. It points out that the signers consider the election of Carranza the most efficacious means to this end in order that constitutional order may be re-established on the basis for the gigantic work of reconstruction which we should labor for without regard to the unexpected attentions and momentary problems confronting a provisional regime.

MORTGAGE PROPERTY SALE RECOMMENDED

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Sale of the mortgaged property of the Missouri Pacific railway company under a decree of foreclosure was recommended in a report filed today in the United States district court here by James G. Graham, special master in a suit of the Union Trust company against the railway company and other defendants.

Mr. Graham found that on Sept. 1st, 1915, the Missouri Pacific defaulted in payment of interest on $75,000 of first and refunding mortgage bonds and that the default continues. The report stated that additional bonds to the amount of $14,425,000 secured by amended trust indenture also were due and payable.

DENYS MEXICO CITY IS TO BE EVACUATED

Gen. Aguilar Sends Telegram To Mexican Commissioners

Declares Undue Importance is Given Reports that Villa Defeated Small Detachments of Gen. Ozuna's Army—Report Normal Conditions are Rapidly Being Restored.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 30.—Normal social and industrial conditions throughout Mexico are rapidly being restored, according to a formal statement by General Carranza's representatives today to the American members of the joint commission in session here.

Another communication placed before the Americans by the Mexican commissioners was a telegram from General Candido Aguilar, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, denying Mexico City was to be evacuated and insisting undue importance had been given reports that Villa forces had defeated a "small detachment of General Ozuna's army" in a "skirmish" near Chihuahua. It added there were sufficient troops at Chihuahua to overcome any Villista force.

The joint commission met today without Luis Cabrera, head of the Mexican commissioners, who had not yet returned from New York.

No reference to the statement issued at Washington and credited to Mr. Cabrera in which the American government officials were criticized was made. The joint commission, it is believed, will adjourn on Friday until after the national election to reconvene at Washington. The statement issued by the joint commission concerning improvement in conditions in Mexico follows in part:

"The American commission in the course of its proceedings, today called upon the members of the Mexican commission for their reasons for believing that the Carranza government is growing in strength."

"They said that outrages against the church had totally ceased as the Carranza government had grown in power and that more than 95 per cent of the clergy were in their regular churches carrying on their holy offices."

"In every city in Mexico municipal elections have recently been held, so that today all Mexican municipalities are under their own elected mayors and municipal councils. In each of the states a federal judicial system has been established and federal judges appointed. In all the states a large number of grammar schools have been created and in some states five times as many such schools are in existence today as there were a year ago."

"In the state of Yucatan alone over two thousand public schools have been established in the past year."

"Thruout Mexico numbers of public works are being constructed—two lines of railroads, many wharves, roads, pipe lines, river and harbor improvements."

"And most important of all, a gradual change has been going on from the military system of government to a civil basis, excepting where there is a state of quasi-war."

"These statements were in part supported by official and other papers which also showed an increasing activity in mining."

"Some parts of the country report that the peso fell to seventy-five for one, but in spite of financial conditions at Monterrey one smelter is in operation which pays help in silver and some other industrial plants still operating are doing the same. Reports indicate that aside from the trouble caused by the almost worthless money and the rapidly increasing death rate by official and other papers which also showed an increasing activity in mining."

"There has been considerable excitement over Villa's movements in Chihuahua, but no big fights have occurred and as far as Villa and his real actual following is concerned the reports have evidently been greatly exaggerated. It appears that it is common to call all the factions in Western Mexico, Villistas, when some of the largest bands are entirely independent and as much opposed to Villa as they are to Carranza. I am convinced that Villa has no very widespread organization at present, but of course they may possibly unite on him later on. However, these bands of whatever name or allegiance can greatly bother the defacto government."

Entered at postoffice in Jacksonville as second class mail matter.

As an example of real harmony in Cook county politics a meeting was addressed there yesterday by practically all of the defeated candidates for the Republican nomination for attorney general. Conspicuous among the number was Senator Richard Barr of Joliet, who ran Mr. Brundage, the successful candidate, such a close second that for several weeks after the primary the result was in doubt. But Senator Barr, like George Wilson, Walter Provine and the other defeated candidates, is a good loser and disappointment over his failure to win has not in any way lessened his enthusiasm for the whole Republican ticket.

Prepare to Help.
It will be well for relief organizations in Jacksonville to plan now for their winter work and take whatever steps are necessary in order to secure some resources. While work is plentiful it is very certain that because of the extremely high prices many families will have a hard struggle to get through the winter. A local charity worker who is frequently in the homes of the poor, is authority for the statement that there are already evidences of the suffering and privation which are certain for this winter unless a liberal relief fund is available. With all provisions and the necessities of life at such high prices, there are fatherless children in many homes in Jacksonville that will lack for proper food and clothing and warmth unless these helping plans are made.

It is a condition and not a theory about high living cost, and those people in Jacksonville who have more than enough needed for their own family support have a certain duty outlined for them. That duty is to assist in a material and organized way those less fortunate than themselves.

For the Legislature.
With its list of recommendations the Legislative Voters' league takes this position, which has its appeal to every citizen with an eye single to the best interests of this state:
"The most obtuse citizen must see that if these great state problems are to be properly solved the best possible men must be elected to the general assembly. The element of partisanship should not enter into the selection of our state lawmakers. The legislator nowadays is not called upon to perform any strictly partisan political service. Therefore, selection for this body should be made in the same nonpartisan spirit that is customary in most of our town and city elections in Illinois.

"The state needs a body of intelligent energetic and square dealing citizens willing to work to go to Springfield for the next session of the legislature. There are enough men of this type on the tickets of the predominant political parties to give Illinois a first class assembly in 1917 provided the voting citizens show discrimination in marking their ballots on election day.

"Care in voting is necessary if the state is to be well represented, for there are a number of weak and unfit candidates. Good citizenship has the power to make the next legislature what it will."

Plans for Luther Anniversary
Today marks the formal inauguration of what is expected to be one of the most notable and widespread religious celebrations in the history of the world. The celebration will continue an entire year and is intended to commemorate the four hundredth anniversary of the Reformation. It was on October 31, 1517, that Rev. Martin Luther, Roman Catholic parish priest of Wittenberg, nailed the ninety protests to the door of his Castle Church. The act started not alone a religious change, but also a political one. Hence it is purely religious in character.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

The Moving Finger.

The Moving Finger writes; and we may read the faithful lesson of its changeless scold, of which no man may cancel half a line, by all his prayers, by all his flow of brine. All useless things must perish from the earth, which has but room for things of proven worth. In every age some foolishness is stopped; in every age some worthless things are dropped. The worthless things may grow and flourish long, and long the world endures some grievous wrong, but when their time has come to bump the bumps, no power can save them from the divers dumps. And so Old Boze is slipping day by day; nothing can stop him on his downward way; the world has had enough of gin and rye, nations and states and villages go dry. Friends of Old Boze are fighting for him hard, weapons in hand they stand upon their guard, but all in vain their brave defense of rum—Old Boze must go because his time has come.

posed by the religious bodies in America to have both religious and civic celebrations of the event thruout the year beginning today.

The Lutheran bodies that have united in plans for the celebration include the General Council, the General Synod, the United Synod South, the Joint Synod of Ohio and the Iowa Synod. These five make up about one-third of all Lutherans in America. Providing its own religious celebration, but joining with others in the civic one, is the Synodical Conference, the largest of all Lutheran American bodies, and the most German and most conservative.

The celebration will not be confined to the Lutheran bodies, however, for virtually all Protestant denominations are arranging to take part in the observance. It will be as in 1883, when the entire Protestant world commemorated the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of the leader of the Reformation, Martin Luther.

"What Will the Robin Do Then—Poor Thing?"
This story is to illustrate our need of a county sanatorium for tuberculous cases. There are doubtless many similar cases in our Morgan county homes.

When Robin married his bank book showed a small sum credited to him. His house was small, too, and so was his wife, but he was happy—wonderfully so. He asked little more of life than to be well and able to make enough money to feed and clothe his little family and give them a few pleasures. When the little Robins came he felt himself blessed indeed, "as happy as the birds," he said, which was fitting, having such a name.

Two winters ago "Mrs. Robin" contracted a severe cold, and later had bronchitis. She thought that it took her a disgracefully long time to recover from her illness, and she left her bed before she was really strong enough to do any work. As she daily grew weaker Robin called a physician, who pronounced her case "tuberculosis." When she asked to be sent away so that her husband and children could have their peace, the doctor told her that there was no place near at hand to which she might be taken, and Robin could not afford to send her to an expensive private sanatorium. So she waited patiently at home until the time came for her to take the long journey from which no one returns and for which no fare is asked. Today the unhappy father is trying to care for his motherless little brood, but two of the children are threatened with tuberculosis.

This story need not have had such an ending. If the mother could have been sent to a county sanatorium, and the children would not have been exposed to the dread disease.

Will YOU vote on November 7 for a tax for a county sanatorium, and so help to give other tuberculosis sufferers a chance?

"The Dawn of Freedom"

The prologue of the picture depicts the life of the United States directly after the Revolution, while the latter half shows the present whirl of social life mingled with business.

One Colonial dress worn by Arlene Pretty is beautifully fashioned in a series of puffs, ruffles and panniers. The overdress of pink-flowered cretonne, is laced at the bodice by narrow black velvet while the full skirt which peeps from beneath is a pale flesh color. The hair is powdered and worn high on the head with a cluster of the old-fashioned puffs.

Rose Tapley, who plays one of the Colonial roles, wears a dress of a red material with the bodice, waist and overskirt of a black velvet. This velvet is embroidered in red silk similar to those worn today with the front piece of orange blossoms and tiny white berries. Charming indeed is this delightful little lady in her wedding finery.

Then comes the more elaborate style of the present day—evening gowns of spangles and beads sparkle under the great electric lights of the ball-room. Billie Billings wears a remarkably beautiful evening gown in this part of the picture. It is white satin with an entire overdress of spangles, while a shawl effect is obtained by a scarf of black jet being attached to one shoulder.

Dance frocks of stiff taffeta—sheath gowns of spangles and the latest creations fashioned from tulle and chiffons—all aid in rendering a ball-room scene worthy of the Blue Ribbon trade-mark under which the production is released.

Prices 5 and 10c.

ESTIMATES $10,463,822
COULD HAVE BEEN MADE

Annual Report of Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company
Made Public for Full Fiscal Year.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—The annual report of the Chicago, Rock Island &
Pacific railway company, made public here today, covers a full fiscal year under the receivership of Jacob
M. Dickinson, and touches on efforts to make economies suggested in the expert report of J. W. Kendrick, the expert employed for the purpose more than a year ago.

Important economies were accomplished and the net operating revenue of the company increased $3,377,559 or 19.4 percent.

Mr. Kendrick, the report recounts estimated that an annual saving of $10,463,822 could be made but much of this was based on a proposed expenditure of $32,847,685 and this sum was not available to the receiver.

Mr. Kendrick's belief that a saving of 2,000,000 passenger train miles a year could be made proved excessive in practice, according to the report. The passenger train mileage was reduced 259,742 miles, at a considerable economy. Mr. Kendrick believed that the "Golden State Limited" trains Nos. 3 and 4, luxurious affairs featured by the road, was run at a loss and should be abandoned.

A careful study of the suggestion disclosed that the trains put approximately $150,000 into the pockets of the road.

OPPOSE BELIEFS
EXPRESSED BY WILSON

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—In direct opposition to beliefs recently expressed by President Wilson, J.
Frank Hanly, the Prohibition candidate, told Pennsylvanians today that the men who survive the European war will give the United States sharp competition in the business world.

Only the best will survive, he said and to meet this competition America should become sober.

Hanly aroused prolonged applause in several cities with his arguments for equal suffrage.

"We believe," he said, "in government by the people and we believe that women are people."

Hecklers disturbed almost all of the fourteen meetings in Pennsylvania and New Jersey today. Hanly deserted his speech once in favor of Landrith and walking over to a heckler bade him to leave or to be quiet.

statesman, a true hearted friend. "I could not but recall the time when the prestige of the nation was very high; its international influence very great and the demonstration of the passing of the torch was significant to my mind of a dominant patriotic sentiment which is to show the deep feeling of this country that the rights of American citizens must be safeguarded through the world, and the honor of the American name established."

"What an extraordinary assertion it is to say that anyone who criticizes the policies of the administration must be in favor of war."

"A vote for me does not mean a vote for war, but it does mean a vote for maintaining American rights throughout the world."

"Therein I think lies the sure pathway to national honor, moral influence, international prestige and of a lasting security."

The nominee again assailed the administration for the enactment of the Adamson law. The great object is to get things settled right and you cannot get things settled right unless you attend to them in the right way," he said.

"I say that if there is any grievance, whether it affects labor or capital that comes before me in the event of my election, I propose to get the very last fact and to understand it as well as it may be understood."

ANNOUNCE ARREST OF ELUSIVE COUNTERFEITER

Capture H. R. Wilken Said to Have Confessed Making Three Puzzling Series of Counterfeit Bills.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Treasury secret service agents announced today that with the arrest of H. R. Wilken, formerly of West Hoboken, N. J., in Santa Cruz, Cal., last week as he was trying to pass a bogus $10 note of the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank, the government got its hand upon the most skillful and elusive counterfeiter of recent years. The prisoner is said to have confessed manufacturing the three most puzzling series of counterfeit bills encountered since the notorious Monroe Head affairs. The arrest was the result of a publicity campaign started three weeks ago by distributing 100,000 circulars describing the counterfeit federal reserve note. A Santa Cruz jeweler recognized a note which a customer offered and hastily called the police.

Wilken, who is only 29 years old, is accused of having passed not less than $50,000 worth of bad money since 1910. Wilken's money was difficult to detect largely on account of the excellence of his paper, which made himself. The principal defect of the federal reserve note was too many fine lines in the portrait of Andrew Jackson engraved on the face of the note. These made the hair of the portrait look gray instead of white.

tinguished family has been famous for its chivalry of the south for his years. His statement is also unquestionably true beyond any possibility of doubt.

"Believe me, dear Senator Lodge, yours truly, (Signed)

"John Temple Lloyd Jeffries."

"The writer of this letter, Mr. John Jeffries," Senator Lodge said, "is a member of a very well known family in Boston, a gentleman of honor and of the highest character and well known to me personally. The evidence that Mr. Breckinridge made the statement attributed to him about the postscript I therefore think cannot be successfully controverted and if Mr. Breckinridge made the statement, it can be absolutely believed."

"Mr. Breckinridge has sent one or two telegrams in which he refers to Dr. Bailey and myself in a very angry manner which is not important, but he characterizes his own conversation with Dr. Bailey reported as 'back stairs gossip.' He does himself a great injustice by this, because he was a member of the Wilson administration and a most efficient secretary of war. He denies that there was any threat of resignation by Mr. Garrison or others but he entirely fails to deny the essential point, which was that postscript was written and that Mr. Garrison saw it. Mr. Garrison said yesterday in Washington, 'I am not being interviewed on any subject. I have no statement of any kind to make.' So that he also refuses to deny the existence of the postscript which he certainly would have done if it had been a mere fabrication by Dr. Bailey. Dr. Bailey is a gentleman of the highest character, standing and veracity. I have no doubt that he stated the conversation in substance with absolute truth."

OPENS PUBLIC HEARING.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Stephen T. Mather, assistant to the secretary of the interior in charge of national parks opened a public hearing here today to decide whether the Dune district of Northern Indiana should be converted into a national park. Mr. Mather and a party of advocates of the project will visit the Dune region tomorrow.

FAIRBANKS SPEAKS AT ROCKFORD

HOLD SMALL HOPE FOR MEXICAN'S RECOVERY

WATERLOO, Iowa, Oct. 30.—Small hope is entertained for the recovery of Mike Garcia, 30, a Mexican, who was shot three times by Jose Feaso, 24, another Mexican, in a gun fight in this city Sunday. Feaso admits having shot Garcia, but declares he did so in self-defense. He claims he was ridiculed by Garcia and three other Mexicans because he had declared his intention of becoming an American citizen. Words led to a quarrel and Feaso claims Garcia opened fire on him. He says he then drew his gun and returned the fire.

STATE HIGH SCHOOLS
TO HAVE CONFERENCEBest Means Yet Devised for Securing Cooperation of all Concerned.

As previously announced the 1916 session of the High School Conference at the University of Illinois will be held at Urbana-Champaign, November 23, 24 and 25.

The program in full will be sent out before this reaches our readers. The following summary of what this Conference will undertake to do may however, be of general interest.

As usual there will be three general sessions. In the matter of organization an effort will be made to secure the appointment of certain "interlocking" committees to look after interests which may concern two or more groups as now represented in the sections.

Besides the symposium on standardization of secondary schools for Friday evening there will be a message from the General Conference Committee by the Chairman on Thursday evening which will deal with the meaning and purposes of the Conference.

On the same evening a meeting is called of the principals of schools accredited by the North Central Association. This is to be held immediately after the close of the general Conference session for the purpose of nominating representatives to serve with the Illinois members of the Commission on Secondary Schools.

On Saturday morning Professor F. D. Crawshaw of Wisconsin University will speak on Vocational Education as an Element in Education for a Democracy. At this session there will also be a series of three minute reports from the section meetings.

In the sections, and in other ways, an effort will be made to get together materials for a bulletin on High School Libraries.

The program for the section meetings on Friday promise much. There are a number of interesting reports due on research work that has been going forward during the year. There are also strong papers to be presented on problems of vital interest to high school teachers, and in several instances round-table discussions.

The general social event of the Conference will be a reception at the Woman's Building, Friday afternoon, 4:30 to 6:30 to which all attending the Conference are invited.

The Conference is probably the best means that has yet been devised for securing cooperation of all those concerned in carrying forward the development of the high school. This is the day of secondary education as the greatest conserving force of Democracy. It is up to the teachers, principals and superintendents of these institutions, cooperating with the students of educational problems in our higher institutions of learning, to see that this progress goes forward uninterruptedly and along sane lines.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS

Water will be shut off on College Avenue from Diamond street to South Main street and from Square to College street on South Main street, on Sandy street from Square to College street, on Prairie street from State street to College street, this morning from 8 to 12.

GAVE MASQUERADE PARTY.

Miss Inez Beilschmidt entertained at her home three miles southwest of Prentice, the members of the B. Y. P. S., Saturday, Oct. 28th.

It was a Halloween Masquerade Party and the house was decorated very fittingly.

The guests were very politely greeted by the Ghost, Miss Helen Swain and a number pinned on each one. The first thing on the program was the last meeting were read by Miss Elizabeth Robinson. Next was an instrumental selection entitled "Turkey in the Straw" and played by a very old and crippled lady, Miss Helen Swain, while the ghost did some very queer stunts and frightened everyone.

After this a vocal solo entitled "I'm for Wilson" was sung by an old maid, Miss Ona Turner. This song was followed by the song of "Here Comes the Bride," which was very appropriate as the colored bride and groom, Miss Inez Beilschmidt and Mr. Bud Stewart accompanied by Miss Ollie Steward and Mr. George Awalt both colored, very gracefully took their places in the parlor. They were united in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony by the minister, Mr. George Lewis, who proved himself equal to the occasion.

After this each one had their fortune told by the Old Witch, Miss Ona Turner.

Three prizes were given: First prize to Miss Ona Turner for being the most comically dressed; second prize to Nellie Swain for guessing the most names of the ones who wore masks; third prize to George Robinson for guessing the exact number of pumpkin seeds in a bottle. The judges were, Mrs. Walter Roberts, Mrs. Ione Thompson and Mrs. Henry Isaac.

Next on the program was a two course luncheon. All had an excellent time and found Miss Beilschmidt a charming hostess.

MRS. LEROY STRONG AGAINST REPUBLICANISM

Suffragist Speaker Sees Great Menace of Wall Street in Present Contest.

According to Mrs. Virginia Barlow LeRoy who made a Democratic speech at Armory hall Monday evening, the present contest is between Democracy and Plutocracy. If Mrs. LeRoy is to be believed dire results will follow if Mr. Hughes and the Republican ticket is successful in November.

The speaker pictured graphically the terrible octopus that is gnawing the very vitals of the Republic. "If the Republicans elect Hughes," said the speaker, "Wall street will swallow the country and the people will get what is coming to them if such a thing is permitted."

An arraignment of Mr. Hughes was the main burden of Mrs. LeRoy's address. She scored his record as governor of New York, criticized his present campaign methods and in general said everything she could think of about his conduct as a public official. Mrs. LeRoy spoke with assurance if not with authority.

In speaking of the Progressive party Mrs. LeRoy said that some of the Progressives had returned to the Republican party but that the party had adopted none of the Progressive ideas of the Progressive platform. The speaker then lauded the Democratic party and the Democratic administration. She said the present campaign was not a question of Democratic or Republican policies or candidates but a question of principles.

The speaker then said that the same fight that was being waged on the battlefields of Europe was being waged here. Her hearers probably became alarmed at this statement and feared that after all Wilson was going to plunge them into war. They found, however, that the terrible menace was the domination of Wall street over the poor, down trodden people.

That Mrs. LeRoy is a militant suffragette was proven when she told her auditors in no uncertain terms that women should not vote as their families, their husbands, brothers or sweethearts did but what their conscience dictated would be for their best interests. The speaker said if women did vote as their men did and for candidates who would give their men favors, then the granting of suffrage to women would be a great misfortune.

The tariff and suffrage were issues in the present campaign said the speaker. She then went on and defended the Democratic doctrine of free trade. Mrs. LeRoy said that a tariff commission should be appointed composed of scientific men to work out the tariff problem. She said that the commerce of the United States with foreign countries was growing fast and conditions were changing so rapidly that this country must play the game according to their dealing.

Mrs. O. E. Tandy presided during the earlier part of the meeting and introduced Rev. W. E. Spooner to preside. The minister who said that he was not usually partisan, expressed the belief that the present conditions in this country do not warrant a change. He declared that the times are undeniably prosperous and that this prosperity could not truthfully be traced to the European war. Mr. Spooner then touched on the "He kept us out of war" argument and in a fitting way introduced Mrs. LeRoy as the principal speaker of the evening.

Monday he visited the Virginia high school in the morning and in the afternoon went to Ashland on a like mission. Dr. Harker's sermons in Virginia Sunday made up a part of the program of "Launching Sunday" for the ministerial aid fund of the Methodist church. By agreement Sunday was set aside for this work all thru Methodism and in most of the charges the ministers exchanged pulpits. The allotment for Illinois conference's share of the fund is $300,000 payable in five years. WINTERING ON BLUE GRASS.

A well known and successful Morgan county farmer was speaking yesterday of the high price of corn and remarked that cattle and horses could get along thru the winter pretty well without corn, but hogs must have it. He said if a man has a good field of blue grass, let nothing run on it after June and by winter the grass will be several inches high. Then let the stock run on it and when snow comes drop some bales of clover hay unbound right on the snow and the stock will get it all right and he has had cattle and horses do well in that way.

The late Henry R. Johnson, who all know was a good farmer and kind to his stock, said that once he had a two-year-old colt that had wintered twice successfully without being fed, getting its living on blue grass pasture.

SOCIALIST LECTURE.

Last evening a good-sized audience listened at the court house to a lecture by Fred D. Warren, former editor of "The Appeal to Reason," published in Girard, Kan. Mr. Warren is a vigorous and forcible speaker and dwelt earnestly on what he regarded as the wrongs of the laboring classes. He said a good many other concerns might pay five dollars a day just as well as Henry Ford, but they didn't do it. He especially arraigned the press as being subservient to the capitalists and said if all the papers in the land would publish matter they are keeping in their archives a secret it would work a revolution at the polls next week.

Both parties, he said, were equally in league with the robber capitalists and no redress would ever be obtained until the Socialist party was placed in charge of national affairs.

A party consisting of Mrs. Thos. Worthington, Mrs. Minnie Cleary, Mrs. Harry Brady and Mrs. David Reid visited Springfield Monday for the purpose of seeing something of the organization work being done there under the direction of Miss Margaret Bergen. They, with Miss Bergen, were entertained at luncheon at the Country club by Mrs. Stuart Brown and afterward visited the various centers of sociologic work in the city.

Of special interest was the regular weekly meeting of the "Case committee." About thirty workers were present from almost as many relief organizations of the city. Among the organizations represented were the day nursery, home of the friendless, the kindergarten, the overseer of the poor, the truant officer, the junior court officer, probation officer, school nurse, anti-tuberculosis nurse, ministerial association, the clothes bureau, the city nurse, city clinic and practically all of the Springfield churches.

Most interesting was the way in which these different groups co-operate, studying each reported case of family or individual need and working together not only for immediate relief, but for its ultimate cure.

Miss Bergen is one of the most prominent field workers of the Associated Charities of America. She was loaned by them to the Russell Sage foundation for this special work in Springfield, following up the social survey completed there a year or two since.

At the November meeting of the Jacksonville Woman's club Miss Bergen is to speak on "Modern Methods of Charity Organization," and the members of the club feel very fortunate in being able to secure so noted a social worker.

PISGAH HOMECOMING ATTRACTED MANY

Several Ministers and Members of the Church Took Part in Special Program—History of Organization Shows Names of Persons Prominently Identified with the Religious Work of County.

The homecoming program at Pisgah Presbyterian church Sunday was of a kind which proved of great interest to members past and present and to all friends of that historic church. In the morning Rev. N. W. Thornton, former pastor, preached a very excellent sermon. At the noon hour a bounteous basket dinner was served and many people from Jacksonville were there to enjoy it. In the afternoon Irvin Stevenson, long an elder of the church, presided. Singing by a quartet and the hymns by the congregation formed a very enjoyable part of the exercises. Notable among the musical numbers was the song "Our Own Pisgah" written especially for the occasion by Mrs. James T. Holmes. It expressed a lofty sentiment and the entire company joined very heartily in the music.

After a prayer by Frank E. Drury a duet was rendered by his daughter and the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Holmes. A poem written for the occasion, emphasizing the work and spirit of Pisgah, was read by Mrs. James H. Scott. Then Mrs. Frank E. Drury presented a very able paper on "The Women of Our Church."

Rev. E. B. Landis, pastor of Westminster church, was introduced and talked particularly of the many strong members of Westminster church who have come from the Pisgah church. The latter has, indeed, been a sort of preparation place for Westminster and has thru the years made many contributions of valued members. Rev. W. E. Spoonst, pastor of Northminster church and the moderator of Pisgah, emphasized the need of expressing the religious life. He told how the earlier residents of the Pisgah neighborhood had expressed their life in the church that they built up and he brought out the thought that in future years the members of the church will be able to tell just what the people of the present are doing in religious work.

Dr. A. B. Morey, long a friend of Pisgah church and familiar with its history, indulged in personal reminiscences referring to many men and women who have had large place in the work and accomplishment of the church. Then came a time for informal talks and among those who spoke were S. O. Barr, G. C. Guthrie, T. M. Tomlinson and Dr. Charles H. Rammelkamp, who was present particularly to bring greetings from Illinois college. Pisgah church and the neighborhood thereabout has sent many students to the college. In every way the occasion was one of religious and social interest and added a notable day to the history of the church.

My Conception of the Presidency

(By Charles Evans Hughes.)

On the eve of Election Day the American people are entitled to a summary of the things I have stood for in this campaign, as they are the things I shall stand for as President.

No man can tell in advance what unexpected demands the next four years may present but one whose conception of the President's duty rests upon fundamental principles can describe with entire sincerity how the problems of administration would be approached and in what spirit they would be solved.

A man charged with the duty of reaching a desired goal knows that the road to it is found in following that path which sound judgment and clear vision open up step by step. I can show the road I expect to travel.

I propose first of all to start right. The President is primarily an executive. It is his supreme duty to attend to the business of the nation, to safeguard its interests, to anticipate its needs, to enforce its laws.

The first act of a President who takes this view of his duties is to call about him the ablest cabinet the country can furnish, men who can deal with the tremendous international and domestic problems which will confront us in the next four years.

My conception of the Presidency differs absolutely from that of Mr. Wilson. I look upon the President as the administrative head of the Government. He looks upon the President as primarily the political leader and lawmaker of the nation.

In the two departments of Government most closely touching our foreign relations—the Department of State and the Department of Navy—he chose men whom he knew to be wholly unequal to their duties. Administrative obligation was subordinated to political exigency. I can assure the country that any administration under my direction will stand upon sound administrative ground with the ablest cabinet the country can supply.

Across the road we are to travel this next four years, even though we start right and move with prudence and courage, serious hazards are thrown like breaks in a roadway, made by a torrential rain. These all rise out of the war torrent which has overwhelmed Europe. The first has to do with our foreign relations. It is the President's duty to safeguard the interests of our own nation and to preserve the friendship of every other nation.

No man is more determined than I to maintain the peace which the United States, Spain, Sweden, Norway and all the American republics now enjoy. But I should seek to maintain that peace by a firm and courteous insistence on the rights of our citizens at home and abroad.

An American in Mexico is subject to Mexican law, but he is an American still and is entitled to the protection of his own government in his lawful business. For one I shall never consent to a policy which leaves Americans helpless against the lawlessness of any country in which they have a right to do business.

There confronts labor in the next four years a condition more serious than any that American laboring men have been called upon to face. When this war began over a million American working men were seeking a vainly for employment. When the war ends and the developed energies of a new Europe are thrown into commercial production, our nation will face a competition such as it never knew.

One of two things must happen—either millions of men will be seeking work in vain or else there must be thought out in advance the problem of commercial organization as France and England and Germany are seeking to think out the problem today. Every one of these nations is preparing to defend its own market by a protective tariff. The end of the war will end also the opportunities for labor created by the war. The millions in the trenches today will be out of industrial competition tomorrow. If we are to save our laboring men from a catastrophe we must plan a tariff protection along sound, just and economic lines. To this endeavor I pledge myself.

self and the men who are to be my colleagues.

In this matter again I differ absolutely from the policy of the present administration. Democratic platforms have declared that the Government has no right to levy tariff duties except for income. This is the fundamental faith of the Democratic party.

I pledge myself and those who stand with me to deal with the needs of laboring men the country over, whatever their trade or organization, upon the principle of giving the largest protection possible to every American working man and the largest participation possible in the prosperity of our industries with special favors to none.

Finally it is to be remembered that every European government is putting itself behind its industries; organizing them, encouraging them and suggesting economies. When the commercial struggle begins anew the industries of every European country will go into the world markets backed by the effective co-operation and intelligent oversight of their government.

Our national policy requires that government maintain a strict supervision of business organization. This can be done effectively and yet leave the Government free to encourage legitimate and wholesome business enterprise. I stand for such supervision and control of business, but I demand also that business great and small (and especially the small business) be treated fairly and justly. Only under such conditions can business pay living wages or compete with foreign manufacturers.

In this respect again the present administration holds a policy entirely opposite. It has viewed business enterprise with suspicion and has made the government a brake to stop the wheels of legitimate industrial progress. It has treated the business men of this country as tho they were suspicious characters. It has assumed that capital and labor are natural enemies. In four years it has put this country further on the road to class war than has been accomplished in a generation before. The men who stand with me believe in the honesty of the American working man, they believe no less in the honesty of the American business man, and they believe that the common good is to be found not in class war but in mutual justice and fair dealing, not as between capital and labor in the abstract but as between men and men.

You know the road we have traveled this last four years. Mr. Bryan and Mr. Daniels are its monuments of executive efficiency. Our murdered and forsaken citizens in Mexico reveal a conception of American citizenship plain enough to see but a new one for American patriotism to adopt; the monument of class bitterness raised by this administration throws a sinister shadow across our political horizon; the unjust accusation against business men has left a bitter taste in our national life. If you prefer this path it is plainly marked. And the end of it is class war.

You ask what road I propose to travel? These are the milestones which mark it—an executive responsible to the whole nation, a cabinet chosen from the ablest Americans, a foreign policy that stands courageously but firmly for American rights, a flag that protects the American in his lawful rights wherever his legitimate business may take him, a preparation for trade competition which shall protect all groups of American workers, a government oversight of business which will suppress unfair abuses but will act on the assumption that the average business man is honest, and finally a domestic policy which looks to industrial peace, and to sound and permanent prosperity based upon the development of American trade and the building up of American industries.

We Americans are in one boat. We cannot strike a blow at one group without injury to the other. You justice and fair play will settle our difficulties if suspicion and bitterness are let alone. These are the principles by which I propose to be guided.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

Gertrude Robinson, a 15-year-old Minneapolis girl, has petitioned Governor J. A. A. Burnquist of Minnesota to either pardon her father, who has served five years of a twenty-years' sentence for burglary, or let her go to state's prison with him. Robinson has been supporting the child with his earnings in prison and trying as best he could to look out for her welfare, and she is passionately attached to him.

Ida and Sadie Smith of Chicago, sisters, and very nearly of an age, were inseparable in school, and when Ida was married to G. A. Beeck, Sadie became Mrs. H. A. Pink on the same day. They began housekeeping as neighbors. They were recently taken to the same hospital and on the same day and in the same room each gave birth to a baby girl. The babies weighed exactly the same—ten pounds.

Miss Maud Earl, who recently landed in New York under contract to paint several noted aristocrats of American dogdom, is the most famous painter of dogs in England. She has painted the portraits of the pets of Queen Victoria and King Edward, notably that of the celebrated terrier, Caesar, which was a conspicuous feature in the late monarch's funeral cortege of Queen Alexandra and the present sovereign's canine darlings, and of all the principal winning dogs of Great Britain and the continent. She was born in London and learned her art from her father, George Earl, who was also an artist of name.

Mrs. Charles Farnam of New York, who was the first woman of any nationality to enter reconquered Serbian territory in the wake of the Serbian troops when they crossed the Cerna river recently, and drove the Bulgars before them on Serbian soil, has been decorated by Crown Prince Alexander of Serbia, regent of the kingdom, with the Order of St. Sava for her services in Serbian relief work. The prince personally presented the decoration to Mrs. Farnam, who not only nursed thro the Serbian typhus epidemic in the present war, but also nursed in Serbia through the first and second Balkan wars. Early this year she returned to America for a few months and raised $30,000 for new hospital units in Serbia, returning to her work in the field last July.

As the women voters of the twelve suffrage states in the American union are preparing to vote for president next month, suffrage agitation is also reported strong in neighbor Canada. The feeling in Ontario is said to be favorable to the step, and to be greatly due to the fact that the Canadian women have performed such a large share, and so splendidly, in the work of the nation since the war opened. Anti-suffragists have often advanced as arguing against the extension of suffrage to woman, the prime importance of man's work in sustaining the nation by armed force, but, singularly enough, the actual existence of war has boosted "the cause" in all belligerent countries because of the way the women have "taken hold" everywhere. In Canada, women suffrage has made the most advance in the western states in the United States, and the eastern provinces, particularly the province of Quebec, are calculated upon to show much the same conservatism shown by the American eastern states. The Province of Quebec is counted on as bound to oppose the change, for a

HOW ONE VALUABLE LIFE WAS SAVED

"Let me tell you the story of Miss X," a bright, attractive girl of 18, employed in a large factory, and the sole support of a tuberculous mother. Broken down by years of hard work, the so young, she fell a victim to the disease to which she had been exposed for such a long time, and found herself without the means to care for herself. The visiting nurse happened to find Miss X before it was too late, and had her taken to the county tuberculosis sanatorium. Here she received the best of care and food, and after a year in this favorable environment, with its endless facilities for the restoration of health, she was well enough to leave the sanatorium and resume her work in the shoe factory.

Thousands of cases might end happily as did this one, if the proper means were provided to care for them. Therefore, show your interest as a citizen to help fight the white plague by voting on November 7 for the levy of a tax for a county tuberculosis sanatorium.

OUTLINES LIST OF PLAYERS' REQUESTS

Fultz Gives Out List of Concessions Asked by Baseball Players' Fraternity.

New York, Oct. 30.—The official list of requests made by the Baseball Players' Fraternity to the national commission and the national board of arbitration for concessions to its members was outlined today by President David L. Fultz of the fraternity, as follows:

"First—The clauses in baseball contracts empowering clubs to suspend without pay, after certain periods of disability, players who are injured in service be eliminated, and that such players be entitled to full pay as long as they are held under contract.

"Second—That rule 34 of the rules and regulations of the national board be amended in so far as it violates section marked 'first' of the fraternity agreement.

"Third—That minor league players receive their traveling expenses from their homes to the training camps when reporting for spring practice. (The words 'traveling expenses' to include in addition to railroad ticket, berth and meal money where either or both of the last two items are usual expenses of the trip involved.)

"Fourth—That the procedure now employed by the national board in hearing players' claims presented by the fraternity be amended so that the fraternity shall receive copies of the defenses interposed by the clubs and an opportunity be given it of answering such defenses; that immediately upon decisions being rendered the fraternity shall be served with a copy thereof and the players exhibits, if any, presented by the fraternity, returned to it, if requested. That this board shall enforce its award against the clubs."

In a brief supporting the fraternity's petition, President Fultz acting for the board of directors states in part referring to the various requests:

"Request 1—There exists today in many of the minor league contracts and in some of those of the American League a clause allowing clubs to suspend without pay a player who has been disabled on the field.

"We believe that this rule is unjust to the player, in that it deprives him of the opportunity of earning his livelihood, not because of any breach of discipline on his part, not because he has neglected in any way to do his full duty, not because he, engaged in a dangerous occupation, disregarding his own welfare in his excessive desire to win his game taken a risk in the furtherance of that desire which has brought injury upon him. We believe that the worst treatment a player in this situation should receive is his unconditional release, or in other words, his discharge, if the club does not wish to pay his salary. By the clause under consideration, however, a club is allowed to retain title to the player, prevent his going to any other club and yet pay him no salary.

"Request 2—The National Board, at its annual meeting in the fall of 1915, enacted a clause designating Rule 34 of the rules and regulations of the national board which is in direct violation of section one of the fraternity agreement, which reads in part as follows:

"When a major league player received a ten days' notice of unconditional release or when Class A.A. or Class A player receives a five days notice of unconditional release, he shall be free to sign with any team immediately the contract to run from the expiration of his notice of release."

"This section permits a player who has received notice of his unconditional release to immediately negotiate for his services so that by expiration of the release period, he will have a position open for him.

Rule 34 complained of takes the right away from the minor league player, thus materially lessening the value of the release notice."

WALNUT GROVE

Mrs. Frank Virgin and her sister, Mrs. Nellie Maxwell of Wichita, Kan., drove to Springfield last Friday and spent the day with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Litter gave a "Harvest Party" at their home, on Thursday evening. About thirty were present and took part in the merry-making. The rooms were decorated with pretty vines and autumn leaves, corn on stalks, pumpkins, squashes, tomatoes, turnips and all kinds of vegetables of autumn growth. Corn in ear was made into pretty candle sticks, with crocheted paper ruffles at the bottom and wax candles at the top, which lighted the rooms, while autumn flowers of all kinds finished the decorations. Refreshments were served during the evening and the young people all declare they had the best time ever.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lowden of Cedar Ridge entertained at a Sunday dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Daniels and daughter Freda of Litterberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilhite and son Raymond.

Miss Mabel Virgin, the worthy teacher of Walnut Grove school, with the help of her scholars gave a very successful box supper Friday night, clearing a neat sum, to be applied on a school library for that place.

Noah Thompson and wife from Arenzville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Virgin.

Mr. and Mrs. George Aldridge of Virginia, spent Wednesday at Cedar Ridge.

Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jokisch there was held a pie social. Other refreshments were served also; there was an admittance of twenty cents each; this money to be used for the Eckman church. About sixty persons were present and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. McCarty of Litterberg, drove to the grove Sunday afternoon and called on Mr. and Mrs. James Lowden.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wilhite celebrated their wedding Thursday by inviting a number of friends to their home. Songs and social conversation kept the guests well entertained and to make the affair just right, splendid refreshments were served, and everybody had a delightful time.

MERCHANTS CITY BASEBALL CHAMPIONS

Take Final and Deciding Game From All-Stars by Score of 6 to 4—Game Loosely Played.

In the deciding game of the series for the city championship between the Merchants and the All-Stars the Merchants walked off with the bacon by a score of 6 to 4.

The game was loosely played by both teams and the All-Stars out-hit the Merchants it was only in one inning that they bunched them to good advantage. Then they put three runs across and came within one of tying the score.

Neither Hartman or Poston were in the form they showed in the last game. Neither had good control, Poston being especially erratic. The support of both men wobbled badly. Trumbo, for the All-Stars, and Fernandes, for the Merchants, both making costly errors.

The two Wheelers at first and Denny on third all played good ball and Christopher in left field made a great stop of a drive from the bat of Jones, holding it to a single.

How the Runs Were Made.

The Merchants broke the ice in the first inning when they put over three runs on one hit. Denny was safe on Brown's error and stole second. Fernandes walked, Ruble flew to C. Wheeler and Clark fouled to Jones. H. Wheeler singled and Denny and Fernandes scored and Wheeler went to second on the throw to the plate. Christopher hit to Trumbo, who pegged wild to first and Wheeler scored.

The All-Stars got a run in the third on an error by Denny of Young's drive. Young stole second, went to third on a fielder's choice and scored when Ruble let Jones' grounder thru him.

The Merchants added one in the fourth on Jones' wild throw when he muffed Woodman's third strike. An error by C. Wheeler, a passed ball and a wild throw over third by Jones. They got another in the fifth on Trumbo's wild peg of Fernandes' grounder, the latter's stolen base and a single by Ruble. The last one came in the seventh on a walk to Denny, who took second on Fernandes' out, Waffel to C. Wheeler, and scored on Ruble's double.

The All-Stars scored three runs in the sixth when they gave Hartman a merry bombardment. Brown caught one of Hartman's slow ones and drove it to deep center for three bases. Young followed with a single, scoring Brown. Jones singled, sending Young to second. Johnson hit to Ruble and Young was caught at the plate. Ramey, batting for Stewart, struck out. Poston walked, filling the bases. Wheeler batted one to right and Jones and Johnson scored. Waffel was out, Fernandes to H. Wheeler. The score:

POLITICS FROM A NEW YORK VIEWPOINT

Wants No Disloyal Votes—"If I am elected we shall have an exclusively American policy in the service of American interests."

This was the declaration of Gov. Hughes, in reply to the fantastic efforts of Mr. Wilson's campaign managers to make it appear that Mr. Hughes was pro-German. Mr. Hughes continued, "We have no secret understandings, no unstated purposes. If any one expects in case of my election that American rights or interests will be subordinated to any ulterior purpose or to the policy of any foreign power he is doomed to disappointment."

Mr. Hughes was addressing a vast audience, composed largely of German-Americans in Scheutzen Park, New York. He continued, "As to any person whose allegiance to our flag is not simple and complete, who would not instantly champion our rights against those of any country on earth, who wants impunity for foreign aggression, or who would have the power of this nation held captive to any foreign influence or swayed by alien machinations, let him not vote for me." Mr. Hughes flat-footed and unequivocal declaration elicited the utmost enthusiasm. He was cheered to the echo and it was some time before he could proceed with his speech.

Baker Despises Vets'ans—Since

Secretary Baker held up to obloquy the heroes of the American Revolution, likening them to the thieves, raping bandits who alternately follow Villa and Carranza, it has developed that he is the type of pacifist who makes no discrimination between wars or soldiers and that he has in the past shown his contempt for veterans, notably those of the Civil War.

As Mayor of Cleveland in 1913, Secretary Baker exerted his potent influence to prevent inclusion in Cleveland's new city charter a provision, proposed by Major Charles R. Miller and embodied in a resolution presented by H. Stillwell, providing that in selecting municipal employees "other things being equal, veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American wars be preferred."

Explaining his opposition to preference being given to the veterans, even when all other things were equal, linemen, inventor, or nurse who volunteers for war is no more heroic and deserves no more of his country than the scientist, telephone linemen, inventor or nurse who stays behind." Mr. Baker's peculiar fitness to be Secretary of War was well known to the president when he chose the Clevelander for that high office, but Mr. Wilson was persuaded that the appointment would help him to carry Ohio against Hughes and that was sufficient to leads Mr. Baker to say, even now: Baker's father was a captain in the Confederate army.

Baker Trying to Explain—Secretary

Baker is now busy trying to explain his insult to the soldiers of the American Revolution. He cannot deny it because a stenographic report of his remarks was read to him by a newspaper reporter when he had finished his speech and he acknowledged its accuracy. Mr. Baker's explanation takes the form of an avowal of loyalty to George Washington and a declaration that he never said anything which could reflect on "the Father of his Country"—which, of course, no one has ever charged. But intense, if misguided, loyalty to President Wilson leads Mr. Baker to say, even now: "Please remember that when you are discussing Mexico the history of the American Revolution supports the Mexican policy of President Wilson."

Carranza Tottering—Authentic

information from Mexico that Carranza is tottering, that he has sent his family out of Mexico and has made every arrangement himself to flee at a moment's notice if things get too hot for him, has again struck terror to the Wilson administration. Of course, it is only a question of weeks when Carranza will have to go, but the Wilson administration desires above all things to prevent this development until after election day because it is feared Carranza's downfall, more than any one thing, would be an object lesson to the American people, proving how accurate is the charge of the Republicans that Mr. Wilson drove out of Mexico all semblance of government and substituted therefore nothing but unbridled anarchy. Army men who have been in Mexico assert that Carranza cannot possibly last a month longer and they expect to hear that he has fled before that. According to the latest advices from Mexico, he has already left the capital and is at Queretaro, whence he probably could escape with his life. Reports also indicate Villa's increasing strength, altho the administration at Washington is doing everything possible to suppress the facts.

T. R. and the Militia—There are probably few Americans who will not agree with Col. Roosevelt's declaration at Denver that, "I honor the national guardsmen who are at the front. They have the true soldierly stuff in them. But the system under which they have been sent is an atrocious one, and should be changed at once. They have been tricked into going to what they supposed was war in behalf of their country. When they entered the militia, most of them had no idea that they would be conscripted as they have been. Their sense of honor has forbidden them to refuse going. But they should never have been sent for mere police duty, for remember that, thanks to Mr. Wilson's tame refusal to punish the American bandits, we now have on the border a force of American soldiers from ten to twenty times as numerous as the bandits across the border, and yet this force does nothing."

Women's Train Successful—The

determination of the Democratic managers to defeat the efforts of the women who are running the Hughes train across the country has come to naught and, according to reports from the West, the women are accomplishing great results. Senator Smoot has telegraphed from Salt Lake City that issues of the Campaign were discussed most intelligently in Utah by speakers on the Women's Hughes Campaign train. They were listened to with the utmost attention and I am convinced the train has been a great success and cannot fail to have a marked effect upon the election."

HIS FRIEND HURT; HE HELPED HIM

Injured Man Laughed When Simple Treatment Was Suggested, But He Thanked His Comrade Later.

Once upon a time word came to Henry A. Voehl, of Plainfield, N. J., that a close friend had been injured, and full of anxiety he visited the afflicted man, who was suffering from a sprained ankle.

"It was so bad that the leg had turned black," said Mr. Voehl in relating the story. "I told him I would have him out in a week and he laughed at me. But I took him a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, that night he put some on and noticed the ankle felt better. I told him to use it every day, and in three days his ankle was practically well. In four days he was working. He gladly admits that Sloan's Liniment 'put him on his feet.'"

Sloan's Liniment can be obtained at all drug stores, 25c, 50c and $1.00.—Adv.

Sloan's Liniment
KILLS PAIN

HEAD AND NOSTRILS STUFFED FROM COLD

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends a Cold or Grippe in a Few Hours.

Your cold will break and all grippé misery end after taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils, and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.—Adv.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter, clogged up in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.—adv.

SENATOR CUMMINS TELLS WHY HE IS FOR HUGHES

Iowa Senator Points to Need For Preparation for Days After the War—Industrial Stagnation Will Come Unless Republican Party and Policies Prevail.

Within six months after the war in Europe is at an end all the industries of the continent will be working to their full capacity, if they can sell what they are capable of producing. Their necessities will compel them to dispose of their products at small profit, and, if necessary, with no profit at all. The United States, with its hundred millions of population, with an abundance of capital, will furnish the choicest markets in the world, and into them will fall the greatest volume of imports we have ever known unless we promptly adopt the measures necessary to check the flood.

Sources of Present Activity Let us examine for a moment the source of the activity which now prevails in America. During the year ended June 30, 1916, we exported from our farms, mines and factories, commodities of the value of more than $1,100,000,000. Converted into terms of labor and assuming a wage of $3 per day, this means the employment in this country of more than 4,000,000 men and women throughout the year.

The increase as compared with the largest volume of exports prior to the war is substantially $2,000,000,000. That this vast advance in our export trade is due to the war alone no honest student of the subject will deny.

The moment this extraordinary demand ceases the 2,000,000 American workers who have been engaged in the production of these export commodities will be compelled to find something else to do, and it seems to me certain that, no matter how carefully we guard ourselves against the consequence of a restoration to conditions, we will experience a shock that will seriously disturb our industrial and commercial life.

If we permit Europe to take possession of our markets to any considerable extent, at the moment she reduces her purchases, we will be the victims of an overwhelming catastrophe.

Tariff Our Defense There is but one thing which will hold the American people harmless in the industrial conflict in which we must shortly engage. There is but one defense upon which we can rely. It is a fair, reasonable, adequate, protective tariff system.

If we do not dismiss the Democratic administration and the Democratic congress, with their absurd destructive economic fallacies, and if we go forward unarmed and unprotected to meet the danger which everybody knows we must encounter, we will be guilty of the stupendous folly.

Whatever mistakes, in the way of legislation, have been made can be and in the course of time will be corrected; but there is one characteristic of this administration which will leave a permanent scar upon the institutions of the country. I protest against the usurpation of power by the chief executive throughout the entire period in which he has held the office of president.

I utter a note of warning against the continuous and successful effort of Woodrow Wilson to compel the majority of congress to do his bidding. Our forefathers intended that congress should make the laws, and that the president should execute them.

Wilson Has Driven Party Whatever may be said of the weakness and vacillation of the president in dealing with foreign nations, he is the pinnacle of courage and the last word in persistency in dealing with the Democratic majority in congress. From the beginning of his administration until the close of the last session he has coerced and commanded his political followers in congress until there is no longer any spirit of independence among them.

Mr. Wilson has succeeded, thru the influence which attends the office of president, in absolutely controlling the majority in congress, and, if he is re-elected, he will continue in his career of subjugation until the legislative branch of the government will be completely subordinate to the executive command.

During the whole of the administration of the present chief executive, I have been a close and interested observer of events as they transpired from day to day, and has never been any serious danger of war, assuming that other powers were disposed to fulfill their international obligations.

Government's Position Lowered I think that every real American must be conscious that in some way, thru some fault or folly, the government of the United States does not stand as high in the esteem of other governments as it did when Woodrow Wilson became President, and undertook the task of representing us in our relations with foreign countries. Somehow we have lost in a degree our reputation for candor and courage, and we are too often likened to Machiavelli in design and to Talleyrand in the acts of dissimulation.

In my judgment there is some foundation for this ill opinion, and it ought to be the first desire of the open-hearted, open-minded people to escape the dispute which the president fastened upon us and to appear once more before the world as a nation which thinks clearly, speaks plainly and acts honestly.

It is true we have kept out of war, but it is too great a demand upon our credulity and common sense to even suggest that an incisive, unalterable demand for the observance of our international rights would have resulted in hostilities between this country and those already burdened with all they could bear. To be kept out of war is good, but it was not necessary that, in order to preserve peace, the spirit of the American nation should be humiliated and that countries like Sweden, Norway, Holland and Switzerland should find it necessary to accept the leadership in the struggle for neutral rights.

I do not charge the President with want of patriotism or with evil purpose. He has done exactly what a man of his training, disposition and turn of mind was bound to do. It was just as certain that he would be insolently truculent toward congress in domestic matters and subversively vacillating in our foreign affairs as it was that he should act at all. The humiliating outcome is not so much his mistake as it was the mistake of the people of this country in electing him President.

CONSIDERS WATER AND STREET MATTERS

Permission Sought to Remove Old Water Pipe—New Hose For the Fire Department.

There was little business of importance transacted at the meeting of the city council Monday morning. Mayor Rodgers called attention to the desire of Mr. Graves of Kankakee, who is taking up the water main of the Jacksonville Water company to remove the pipe belonging to the company inside the city limits. Mayor Rodgers was of the opinion that the pipe in the city reservoir property should not be disturbed at this time. This was the sense of the council and the matter was referred to Commissioner Vasconcellos with power to act.

The council met in regular session, all members present, Mayor Rodgers presiding. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

Under the head of departments the mayor said he had instructed Otis Hoffman to lay the concrete walks in East State street. In the matter of the walk abutting the Catholic church property the Mayor said they would have to advertise for bids.

Commissioner Widmayer reported that he was having trouble again in getting people who have claims against the city to file them promptly. He said he had been taking up the matter with merchants by telephone and hoped to have claims filed promptly in the future.

Two shipments of hose for the fire department, aggregating 1,000 feet, were reported by Commissioner Martin as having been received. This hose has been ordered some time ago and the department was greatly in need of it.

Commissioner Cox said there had been some complaint about automobile owners parking their cars in East Court street opposite the New man garage. Mr. Cox said that when there were parked on the north side of the street it left but little passage for traffic. It was the sense of the council that Commissioner Cox have a sign placed there prohibiting parking of cars.

Mayor Rodgers called attention to a walk in front of John Buckley's residence in East College avenue that had been taken up and had not been relaid. He said the matter had been talked over with Mr. Buckley, who said he was going to lay the walk, but wanted to set it on a new line. It was the sense of the council that the walk be placed on the old line.

Public Engineer Henderson reported that F. M. Morton was preparing to set the fence out abutting his property in South West street. He said that some time in the past the ground had been vacated by the property owners and that he would like to have instructions from the council before Mr. Morton did any work. The matter was referred to Commissioner Cox to consult with the city attorney and get an opinion in the matter.

Commissioner Vasconcellos reported that the water department was making repairs on valves. The commissioner also said he had telephoned to a firm in Springfield that had one of the motors from the north end wells for repairs. He said that it was thought when the motor was sent to the firm that it would be returned October 15. The firm had told him in a telephone conversation that there was no guarantee as to the time of delivery and that it might be several months before it would be finished. The commissioner was instructed to have the motor sent to the manufacturers or to some other firm where the repairs could be made at once.

Commissioner Vasconcellos also suggested that it would be well to equip all of the pumps at the north end wells except No. 3 with 20-horsepower motors. If this was done it would be possible to have a motor in reserve all the time and there should always be one. The commissioner was instructed to see if his suggestion could not be carried out.

Mayor Rodgers reported that Mr. Graves from Kankakee who was removing the water pipe of the Jacksonville Water company had consulted him about the removal of the pipe of the company which was in the city limits. The mayor was of the opinion that the pipe which was laid in city property at Reservoir park should not be removed at the present time. It was the sense of the council that the pipe in city property should not be disturbed at this time and the matter was referred to Commissioner Vasconcellos with power to act.

The matter of notifying property owners of Prairie street and South Clay avenue to make all taps for sewer, water and gas before the laying of pavement was again brought up. It was decided to have them notified by card at the proper time.

There being no further business, the council adjourned.
